

Usage Analysis

Usage analysis enable desicion makers such as LoB managers or technical executives to get to know whether the platform is doing well. For example, how many users are really using the products, what functions are being used most, how many alerts/defects have been solved, etc.

So they could generate the report to share with other stakeholders to make their further bussiness plans.

